

NICHOLAS-TYLER LAUNDRY

The Nicholas-Tyler Laundry is located on East Francis Street across from the Market Square.

There are two rooms, which have a common entrance. The first floor has a sitting room with fireplace and a king bed with private, full bath facilities. The second floor has a sitting room with a twin daybed and twin trundle. The bedroom has twin beds as well. The bath is private.

In the 18th century, the houses of the well-to-do had a laundry that was detached from the main building. The laundry was generally near the well so that water was easily accessible. Household linens were washed about once every couple of weeks in the summer and once a month during the winter.
