WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (October 4, 2017) – Today the iconic Williamsburg Inn reveals three themed luxury suites, named for John D. Rockefeller Jr., Queen Elizabeth II and Winston Churchill respectively. Each of the three suites is designed in the image of its namesake, honoring the notable individuals responsible for leaving their own historical mark on Colonial Williamsburg. Following the recent renovation completed in May 2017, the suites each feature a uniquely inspired ambiance and iconic historical photography from each figure’s time in Colonial Williamsburg.

The Rockefeller Suite’s décor reflects the standards of classic elegance and sophistication associated with his character. John D. Rockefeller Jr. believed in the importance of remembering history and the moments which defined our nation and his suite does just that. The suite, filled with photographs of Rockefeller’s time spent in Williamsburg demonstrates the lasting impression he left on the destination, which continues to inspire the living museum that is Colonial Williamsburg today.

The Queen’s Suite is infused with classic regal and feminine touches, inspired by Queen Elizabeth II. The first British monarch to visit the Williamsburg area, Queen Elizabeth II came to the Williamsburg Inn, in 1957 to mark the 350th anniversary of the nation’s first permanent English settlement, and returned to the Inn in 2007 for the 400th anniversary of the founding of Jamestown. Her dignified legacy is displayed through a series of photos, taking guests on a walk back in time, while enjoying a stay worthy of royalty.

The Churchill Suite pays tribute to the iconic wartime Prime Minister of Great Britain. Following Winston Churchill’s famous “Iron Curtain” speech, his next stop was Williamsburg with General of the Army and future President Dwight D. Eisenhower. The two enjoyed libations at Raleigh Tavern and dinner at the Williamsburg Inn, where his suite commemorates him today. The custom suite is complete with rare snapshots of Churchill and as always, the quality accommodations the Williamsburg Inn has provided since he visited years ago.

Through these themed suites, the Williamsburg Inn retains its traditional charm and dedication to preservation of the destination's history, while elevating the quality of luxury accommodations available to guests visiting the Colonial Williamsburg area.

To kick off the debut of the themed suites and officially introduce them to the public, Colonial Williamsburg will be hosting a contest where one lucky winner will be treated like a Queen for the weekend. The winning package will include a complimentary two-night stay at the Williamsburg Inn Queen's Suite, horse and carriage ride to historic area, a round of golf on the newly renovated Gold Course, private curated Afternoon Tea with Williamsburg Inn Executive Chef Travis Brust, relaxing spa experience, dinner at the impeccable Rockefeller Room and more.

For more information on the suites or to make a reservation, call (800) 280-8047.
